

MR. FRICK IMPROVING

His Physician Says That He Will Recover.

BERKMAN'S PRELIMINARY TRIAL

His Bail Fixed at $24,000 Which Was Not Furnished and He Still Languishes in Jail—Affairs at Homestead.

PITTSBURG, July 30.—The last bulletin issued by the attending physician indicates but little change in H. C. Frick's condition, save in the direction of continued improvement. Mr. Frick's recovery from his very dangerous injuries has been very rapid and satisfactory and his attendants are now compelled to admit that their judgment was in error as to the length of time that must necessarily elapse to complete the cure. It is now thought that the plucky iron master will be on his feet and again personally assume the direction of the varied interests of the Carnegie Steel company in two or three weeks at the latest.

Yesterday afternoon would-be assassin Berkman was given a preliminary hearing in the county jail office and was admitted to bail, aggregating $24,000, which was not furnished, and the guilty anarchist was remanded for court. Police Judge Grip and Alderman McMassers presided at the hearing. Judge Grip examined the witnesses on the charge of felonious assault, preferred by Superintendent of Police O'Mara, and held the prisoner in $10,000. Alderman McMassers examined the witnesses on three different charges, of entry of a building with intent to commit a felony, one charge of felonious assault, and another charge of carrying concealed weapons. The bail fixed aggregates $14,000. The elevator man, David Portney, of The Chronicle Telegraph building, and Vice Chairman Leishman, of the Carnegie company, were the only witnesses examined. District Attorney Burleigh was also present and asked the prisoner if he intended to shoot Mr. Leishman. He replied: "No, I did not want to shoot anybody but Frick."

"Was it your intention to kill Mr. Frick, or just to torture him?" asked Mr. Burleigh.

"I wanted to kill him," said Berkman.

Application was made yesterday evening for the release on bail of the three suspects, Bauer, Knold and Mollick, now in the Central police station, charged as accessories with Berkman. They will be given a hearing before Judge Grip and the amount of bail fixed.

Paul Eckardt, a leader among the local anarchists, has been delegated by the local groups to look after the legal interests of the imprisoned men, and has secured the services of Attorney Friedman to represent Bauer and Knold, while Attorney Henry Meyer will represent Mollick.

In an interview with Eckardt yesterday evening, he said: "We can get all the bail we want for the imprisoned anarchists. We can easily get $10,000, and they should and will be admitted to bail. I know what I am talking about when I say they can not do anything with Bauer or Knold. They are anarchists, it is true, but that is not a crime. We will not see them suffer."

When asked what the Allegheny groups thought of Mr. Frick, he said: "Well, they think he is an oppressor of labor. He did more, however, to help our cause along at Homestead than all the circulars or tracts we could have published."

"What do you think of the Pinkerton detectives?"

"I think they were not treated badly enough. They should have all been killed. The men should have never let them leave town. You see what is happening now, the strikers are all being arrested."

"Was Herr Most at Homestead?"

"I guess he was."

When informed that Emma Goldman and eastern newspapers claimed that Herr Most was an anarchist for revenue, Eckardt grew almost furious in his denunciations.

"That is a d—n lie," he said. "Most is a brave man. He would die for his cause. He has suffered much for anarchy's sake. Most loves his fellow-workmen, and the day will come when he will be honored by all the working-men of the country."

Eckardt was noticeably nervous and hurried away in quest of Attorney Friedman.

Threatening letters continue to reach several of the leading officials of the Carnegie Steel company. The letters are said to be anonymous and mostly written in red ink, while a few are adorned with suggestive skulls and cross-bones. Several of the letters are in the hands of the police who will use them in attempt to run down the writers of the blood-dripping epistles. They are written in a labored way and one is printed by hand, in order to cover up the writer. One suggests that the principal officials may be served as was Mr. Frick. No alarm is felt by the Carnegie officials who consider the letters the work of cranks. Before the shooting of Mr. Frick the receipt of such letters was a common occurrence, but they were always thrown into the waste basket.

AFFAIRS AT HOMESTEAD.

The Presence of Soldiers Alone Prevents an Outbreak.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., July 30.—The old scenes that were familiar prior to the advent of the national guard are being re-enacted in Homestead. Knots of strikers are to be encountered every few yards on the principal streets, discussing the best and safest means of routing the non-union men now in the mill. While much interest is taken in the discussions the leaders continue to caution the more radical men against the employment of force. Were it not for the presence of the provisional brigade, however, the fence around the Carnegie steel plant would not long separate the union and non-union men.

At the company's Homestead office yesterday evening it was announced that forty-two Amalgamated men, who went out on the 28th of June, have applied for and received their old positions. Early yesterday afternoon word was received by Acting Chairman Crawford, of the advisory committee, that thirty-five non-union men were on their way from Indianapolis to Homestead, and that they would reach Pittsburgh in the evening. A committee was sent out with instructions to intercept the men and use all honorable means to prevent them reaching Homestead. Shortly after 5 o'clock a telegram was received from the chairman of the committee, stating that the non-unionists had been met at Birmingham station, Pittsburgh, and that every one of them agreed to return home at once.

The report that Hugh O'Donnell had deserted the locked-out men at Homestead, and that he had gone to an eastern resort to recuperate, is denied by Hugh Dempsey, master workman of District Assembly No. 3, Knights of Labor. To a United Press reporter Mr. Dempsey said: "Mr. O'Donnell is now in New York, and you can say that he is working night and day in the interests of the workmen of Homestead. I am in communication with him, but am not at liberty to make public the exact nature of his mission."

Small Riot.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., July 30.—The employees of the Allegheny Bessemer steel works, who went out on a "sympathetic" strike Friday last, received their pay yesterday and some lively scenes resulted. John Foley, Sr., a company watchman, got into an altercation with John Bork, a striker. Both men were arrested. They were given a hearing before an alderman when Foley's son came in and attacked Bork. A small riot followed, and the deputy sheriffs were powerless to restore order. Word was sent to Homestead and the Sheridan cavalry responded. Upon reaching Duquesne the cavalrymen charged upon the crowd, which they succeeded in dispersing. The two Foleys, father and son, were held for riot, being taken out of town under military escort.

All the employees of the Allegheny Bessemer Steel company were given their discharge during the afternoon.

COST OF THE LOCKOUT.

Already Over a Million Dollars Spent and Not Yet Settled.

PITTSBURG, July 30.—The great lock-out at Homestead is just one month old and has already cost over $1,000,000, besides the sacrifices of a half score of human lives and serious injuries to many times that number.

Of the loss in cash the military has cost in round figures $320,000, the workmen have lost in wages $180,000 and Carnegies have lost and spent as much more in getting new workmen.

The workmen at Beaver Falls, Duquesne and the Union mills in Pittsburgh have lost about $100,000 in wages by their sympathy strike, and the firm is out $100,000 by the idleness of these plants. Added to this will be the county expenses for deputy sheriffs and murder trials, the expense to the city for hunting anarchists, and to the nation for the congressional investigations. Another item of no mean significance is the loss to workmen and manufacturers in plants indirectly affected, which have been forced to close down for want of material. The locked-out workmen have not as yet been deprived of any of the necessities of life, and if the fight should last several weeks yet, there is no danger of the workmen's families coming to actual want.

Subscriptions have been coming in liberally and the relief work has been carried on judiciously and well. Every day people come to Amalgamated headquarters and receive orders for groceries and provisions. The funds already collected will hold out for some time, and none of the men are in fear of suffering for want of plenty to eat. The people receiving aid are principally those who receive $1.40 per day, the cheap laborers who left their positions out of sympathy for the members of the Amalgamated association.

The most significant thing found among the effects of Bauer, the anarchist, was a red card in the shape of a book that apparently was the "open sesame" to anarchist meetings, and was held only by those on the inner circle. Over the top of the inner side was the legend, "Alarm club." The next line was "Certificate of membership for Henry Bauer." It was signed by E. Koesters, secretary. On the lower page were four rows of squares marked by dotted lines. There were thirteen in each line, which gave one for every week in the year.

Apparently whenever the card was presented it was stamped with a rubber stamp, "Alarm club," in one of the squares. The book also contained letters from August Spies, Nina Van Zandt, Herr Most and other anarchists. Among the pictures was one which was identified as that of a man seen with Berkman on Saturday. The police are looking for this man, but so far have been unable to find any trace of him.

The story of the riot among the non-union men on the Cincinnati train was the invention of a tramp printer and is without foundation. There was no trouble on the train whatever. The men who were on the train are now all at work in the Homestead plant.

A New Scale Prepared.

PITTSBURG, July 30.—The Carnegie Steel company, limited, have prepared a scale for the Union mills in this city, and the Beaver Falls plant, which the new men or those of the former employees who return to work will be required to sign. The scale will extend to January, 1894, and the wages will be the same as paid the Amalgamated workmen, but no association will be recognized.

The finishers it is said, will profit especially by the new agreement. The fires have been started in the Union mills and work will probably be resumed in a few days. The strikers are quiet and no trouble is anticipated. There have been no attempts made as yet to resume at Duquesne or Beaver Falls, and none will be made until the Homestead and Union plants are in full operation.

The trouble with the transportation men at the Edgar Thompson works, Braddock, was settled by Manager Schwab and the men have returned to work.

At the Homestead plant the force is being steadily increased. Nearly one hundred new men were sent up on the Tide yesterday.

The men are very intelligent and not a few are college graduates who, attracted by the reports of high wages in the steel works, prefer learning a trade to settling down to the doubtful expediency of a profession for a livelihood.

Sympathy from the Coke Works.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., July 30.—At the meeting of the advisory committee yesterday, there was present a committee from the Frick coke works, in the Connellsville region. The visitors told the committee that if the Carnegie company is successful in starting up its Homestead plant with new men, the Frick coke workers would go out. They said the men were fully organized, were not so poor as is generally supposed, and could stand several months strike.

BY ARBITRATION.

The Wage Question Now Approaching a Settlement.

PITTSBURG, July 30.—The differences between the manufacturers and the Amalgamated association wage committee will now doubtless be settled by arbitration. At last Wednesday's conference, D. R. Oliver, representing the manufacturers, made a unanimous proposition to arbitrate the differences under the, as yet, untried Wallace act of 1883. There was considerable discussion.

The Amalgamated committee, after a private consultation, announced that the matter would be considered. It is learned that the hands of the Amalgamated committee were tied, but that the proposition has been referred to all the local lodges with favorable recommendations by the committee, and it is confidently expected by both sides that this plan will be put into effect at the next conference meeting, to be held next Thursday.

Secured No Men.

KENT, O., July 30.—A representative of the Carnegie company was here trying to secure workmen to go to Homestead. A representative of the strikers, who was here a few days ago, however, seems to have put a stumbling block in his way and no men were secured.

OUTRAGE AND LYNCHING.

Two Brutes Properly Treated by a Tennessee Mob.

KNOXVILLE, July 30.—In Campbell county, Thursday, Andy Beshears and John Willis entered William Dilkes' home and knocked him down, bound and gagged him and outraged his wife before his eyes. They then fled. A posse captured them yesterday and Dilkes attempted to shoot them but the sheriff disarmed him. Dilkes had been married but a few months. The men were his rivals and committed the outrage out of revenge. Lynching is probable.

A telegram received at 12:30 this morning states that the two men were lynched about midnight. A mob of 150 men went to Jacksborough. There they found the two prisoners hiding in a house. The officers were overpowered and the men carried out to a tree. They were made to stand on a gate until the ropes were fixed. Then the gate was swung around on its hinges and both men went into eternity, side by side.

Buildings Burned.

NEW YORK, July 30.—Fire broke out shortly before noon in the office of the American District Telegraph Messenger company, at 117 Montgomery street, Jersey City. The office is a frame building and fire spread rapidly. When the engines got there the fire spread from 117 to 119. In a little while the buildings, 113, 115 and 119 were ablaze. Two five-story flats full of tenants stand adjoining. They were in great danger.

Desperado Still at Large.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., July 30.—James Vance, who shot and killed Town Sergeant Thompson, of Montgomery, at Gauley bridge three weeks ago, and who made his escape, is still at large and is thought to be in the mountains at the head of Gauley river. He is heavily armed and with his two brothers defies arrest. There is a heavy reward offered for the arrest and if caught Vance will be lynched.

Sensational Arrests.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., July 30.—A sensation has been caused by the arrest of Mr. Abigail, chairman of the Australian Banking company of this city, and Mr. McNamara, manager, and Mr. Salmon and Mr. Twish, auditors of the company, on a charge of having entered into a conspiracy to defraud the concern. All the arrested persons have held a high position in the community.

Injured Vessels.

LONDON, July 30.—A Dundee whaling steamer which has arrived at Berwick on Tweed, from Greenland, reports that the whaling steamer Chieftrain has been crushed in the ice. No lives were lost. The Italian steamer Attivita, while on her way from Genoa to Brazil, struck a rock off Hyeres, France, and was badly injured. The steamer returned to Genoa for repairs.

TRADE REVIEW.

Extreme Hot Weather Cheeks All Kinds of Business.

STILL IT IS REPORTED GOOD.

The Volume Considerable in Excess Over That of Last Year—The Crop Outlook Decidedly Improving—No Signs of Threatened Disturbance of Any Kind.

NEW YORK, July 30.—R. G. Dunn & Company's weekly review of trade says: Extreme hot weather for an entire week has checked many kinds of business, but has not prevented a considerable excess in the volume of trade over that of last year.

The crop outlook on the whole is decidedly improving. Money has been abundant and cheap, and collections generally good for the season, and there are no signs of threatened disturbance. The great interruption of iron and steel manufacture at the west continues, but there are distinct signs of probable settlement. Finished products of iron and steel are stronger and $3 to $5 per ton higher, but greater demoralization is expected in pig iron unless more of the consuming works start speedily. Bar and sheet iron are very active, and manufacturers of plate and structural iron have more orders than they can well handle, but no improvement is seen in rails.

In woollens there is a better demand and more activity is seen in purchases of wool while the cotton mills continue to do well. Boot and shoe shops are running full of business and shipments exceed last year's, being for the year thus far 2,056,000 cases against 1,967,000 to date last year. Shipments of hides from Chicago have been 110,000,000 pounds against 97,000,000 last year.

Business at Boston is active in dry goods and cotton, and woolen mills are well employed, as are boot and shoe shops. The demand for leather is steady, manufacturers buying freely. Wool is free and active with sales of 7,000,000 pounds and prospects of better prices. At Philadelphia manufactured iron improves, and the Reading coal business is very active, wool is firm with increasing demand, the market for woolen goods enlarging, and dry goods generally are more active in spite of the weather, distribution being very favorable.

At Baltimore hot weather retards much trade, though in dry goods, boots and shoes and furnishing goods it exceeds last year's. The tin can and box factories are running full, and the packers rejoice in living prices. At Pittsburgh products of iron and steel grow stronger, and window glass is fairly active, but coal dull. Dry goods have improved at Cincinnati, the crops look better than a year ago, and the general prospect is very fair. At Cleveland trade is fairly active in spite of the weather, and the whole production of manufactured iron is quickly absorbed.

Trade is quiet at Detroit, but crops are turning out better than was expected. Trade and collections are better than a year ago at Chicago, even retail trade increasing in spite of the weather. Receipts of wheat, corn and cheese fall a third and of rye and dressed beef one-half below last year's, but some increase is seen in wool, butter and hogs, a gain of a quarter in flour, a third in cured meats, while receipts of oats and lard are double, and of barley eight times last year's. Business is more prosperous at Milwaukee, and up to the average at St. Paul, with excellent crop prospects, but Minneapolis reports some injury by heavy storms.

In spite of the hot weather at Omaha trade in shoes, groceries, and dry goods is active, and fairly active at Kansas City, with receipts of cattle heavy and of grain liberal. Little improvement appears at Memphis or Little Rock, and trade is dull at New Orleans, though prospects are brighter there and at Savannah. Speculation has been curiously affected by the prospect that the Hatch anti-option bill will fail and while cotton has advanced a quarter with enormous sales of 770,000 bales, and lard and coffee are higher, and corn three-quarters of a cent higher for early delivery, the supply being scarce, wheat has fallen three and three-fourths cents with sales of only 15,000,000 bushels and oats half a cent. Western receipts of wheat are heavy, 3,544,000 bushels in four days against exports of 956,000 bushels.

Receipts of cotton are light and exports slightly more than last year, but sales of phantom stock exceed sales of tangible and visible cotton about 50 to 10. The syndicate is said to have sold out all its old copper, and the price is strong at eleven and one-half to twelve cents, but lead is weak with some sales at four cents, and tin with quotations at 20.45 cents. Sales of coal are not discoverable and it is called the dulllest July on record, but another screw upward in prices is expected.

Money has been extremely easy at 1 1-2 per cent, and from nearly all points come reports that the markets are well supplied and the demand generally light, though improvement is seen at some. Yet the exports of about $4,000,000 gold this week are not altogether encouraging to those who calculate that, with congress out of the way, a better foreign demand for American securities may be expected. It often happens that such hopes are unrealized. The treasury is gradually strengthening itself, as is gradually and comparatively easy at this season, but when the fall demand for money to move the crops begins in earnest, pressure in the money markets may speedily appear unless money comes back from abroad in large amounts.

American buyers of stock are encouraged by improved crop prospects, and by the belief that the traffic in connection with the world's fair will help all the trunk lines, and during the past week stocks have been dull, but fairly strong.

The business failures during the last seven days number for the United States 171, Canada 22, total 193: as compared with 187 last week, 190 the week previous to the last, and 247 for the corresponding week of last year.

Crops and Trade in Canada.

NEW YORK, July 30.—Special telegrams to Bradstreet say that in the province of Ontario new wheat is being received, weighing sixty and sixty-two pounds to the bushel. Dry goods, groceries and hardware staples move with some freedom. In the province of Quebec crop prospects are very good, and general trade, while not equaling expectations is fairly good. Cattle exporters are said to have been losing money.

Iron Mill in Trouble.

For Kentucky, Tennessee and West Virginia, showers; cooler north winds; clearing in Western Kentucky and Western Tennessee.

THE Lexington Leader, a Republican paper, denounces the punishment of Private Jams at Homestead as "the climax of brutality." According to the Republican Public Ledger, the editor of the Leader is only "a blatant demagogue."

THE Omaha World-Herald regards Whitelaw Reid as "a dead weight" to the Republican national ticket. Cause why: "He has been an implacable foe to organized labor for years, and he only tolerates it in form now because he considers it policy to do so."

THE Paducah Sunday Visitor remarks that: "The girl who can't keep herself off of her fellow's high collar while riding on a street car in the presence of sensible people, ought to go home, lock herself up and live on a diet of brain food exclusively for about six months." And is that the kind of maidens you have down at Paducah, Mr. Visitor?

THE Winchester Sun has the following: "It is said that things are at a dead standstill at Middlesborough. The tannery is doing a little work, and that is all. Good store-rooms are offered free of rent to any one who will occupy them." This is no doubt very much exaggerated. People usually allow their property to remain vacant, when they can't find a good tenant.

SAMUEL J. TILDEN was elected to the Presidency by 253,000 majority of the popular vote of the country in 1876 on a platform that read: "We demand that all custom house taxation shall be only for revenue." The Democratic platform of 1892 reiterates that demand, and honest Grover Cleveland will most likely receive a bigger popular majority than Tilden received.

DR. R. H. YANTIS, of Fleming, has accepted the nomination of the People's party, and will make the race for Congress in this district. Those who know him are not surprised at this, as he hasn't been in the habit of refusing nominations when they come his way. He has served his county in the Legislature, and has been Judge of the Fleming County Court, but he will never represent the Ninth district in Congress.

ADLAI'S SALVATION WORK.

Despite the intense heat the modern political Ananias is taking no vacation, but remains at his desk up to his ears in business. Perhaps the most comical roorback of the season is the following from the Maysville, Ky., Ledger (Rep.): Adlai Stevenson was at one time a prominent member of the Salvation Army at Bloomington, Ill. That is where he got the title of "General." This is too absurd for serious consideration. Of course Mr. Stevenson never had anything to do with the Salvation Army style of religion. The most conspicuous salvation work he has performed in recent years was rescuing 50,000 post-offices from the rapacious maw of the Republican bread-and-butter brigade.—Bloomington (Ill.) Bulletin.

Editor Bulletin: If Mr. Lewis, the polite engineer of the morning passenger train on the L. and N., will have the greater at the round house to call him at his door instead of blowing that hideous locomotive whistle every morning at 4:30 o'clock he will greatly oblige all citizens living within a radius of half a mile of his residence.

HIS REASONS.

A Chicago Republican Tells Why He Will Vote For Cleveland.

Edward Maher Arraigns the Protective System—An Interesting Letter.

[Chicago Herald, July 24.]

Edward Maher has left the Republican party and joined the Democratic ranks. It has been known for some time that Mr. Maher contemplated this action, and the rumor with an interview with the young attorney was printed in the Herald two days ago. At that time Mr. Maher did not specifically deny that he had been convicted and was about to become converted, but he said no one was authorized to say that he contemplated such an action. Yesterday he made his formal profession of faith. He made it in the form of a letter addressed to H. C. Staver, President of the Thirty-first Ward Republican Club, in which he resigns his membership and gives his reasons for so doing. He concludes the document by saying that he will vote for Mr. Cleveland this fall in preference to Mr. Harrison.

Mr. Maher's reasons for resigning from the Republican club in his ward are purely political, he says, and he bases his action upon the ground that the tariff is a tax and ought to be discontinued or reduced. In making his resignation from the Republican club of the Thirty-first ward and the formal method by which he withdrew from the party it represents, Mr. Maher takes occasion to score the G. O. P., and does it in strong terms. The young lawyer has been active and influential in the Republican party in the First district, and came prominently forward two years ago, when he ran for County Judge on that ticket, and went down with it. His letter to President Staver is long and strong. In the course of it he says:

Since my boyhood I have worked and acted with the Republican party. Other issues than the tariff were important and they controlled my political action. For years the high tariff was justified as a mere temporary fiscal policy, created by the necessities of the country. When the necessity ceased then the policy was to cease. This was repeatedly declared by the Republican publicists and statesmen, and was announced by Republican Presidents in important State papers. This sentiment was approved by the best element of the party as expressed by its leaders and reflected by its journals. Gradually that sentiment has changed. The tariff is no longer a fiscal expedient. It is a permanent policy. A great political party has finally adopted the principle that our Nation can tax itself rich.

A political party crystallizes opinion into doctrine and organizes that doctrine into law. When, therefore, a supporter of a party finds his opinion completely at variance with his party associates, a decent regard for them should require a careful re-examination of the grounds of his opinion, and if, after such re-examination his opinion be unchanged, it becomes his imperative duty to be true to his convictions and follow wheresoever they lead. The time to declare my opposing convictions comes when the Republican party is in power in the Nation, State, county, city, even the very precinct in which I reside.

The protective tariff, it is contended, fosters "American" industry and protects "American" labor. The word "American" appeals to a fine sentiment in every patriot breast. This attractive word is now applied to protection as an "American system," as something peculiar to a country that is great, glorious and free, when in sober truth and solemn fact this system has at one time or another afflicted nearly every modern civilized Nation. And from time to time, as enlightenment and education came, this "American" system was discarded by European Nations and it became an economic fallacy—detected and exposed. America will yet see that protection under other governments was advocated as a peculiarly "English system," or was enacted to "promote French industries," etc., as the case might be, long before the question became of importance in our own day.

To those who believed that a high tariff was only justified by financial stress the answer of the organized party is the original McKinley bill, so called. "A bill," Mr. Blaine said, "which will not open a market for an additional barrel of pork or an additional bushel of wheat."

We were told protection as a policy would foster and develop "American infant industries." Under this influence "infant industries" assume gigantic proportions, wield enormous powers, control courts, debase legislatures and corrupt the people.

When shall we end this period of infancy? Shall it end when the corrupt course of "infant industries," swollen into trusts and monopolies operating on all the people shall destroy civic pride and public honor, and America, fallen from its high state among nations, shall seem to be completely rotten, even before it is fairly ripe?

We are also told that a protective tariff was necessary to protect American labor from the competition of "the pauper labor of Europe." The Nation was asked to bear tremendous taxation that American workmen might live in comparative comfort, receiving fair wages for free and independent labor. Our patriotic people nobly responded and vigorously sacrificed themselves with taxes. To what end? Wages in protected industries were from time to time reduced. Strikes resulted. The "pauper labor of Europe" was colonized to take the place of labor that refused starvation wages, while monumental fortunes were amassed. Now the imported labor strikes in turn and recourse is had to hired hordes of assassins. Strange "protection" this! But we are told that a manufacturer has a right to do as he will with his own—to run his business as he pleases.

Very well, let him do so. But let him not ask for special legislation helping him and hurting his neighbor. Above all, let him clear his mind from cant. Let him not prate on the triumphs of democracy and the virtue of protection to American labor while he is concocting schemes to cut wages and to butcher those who resist.

The past of a political party, however glorious, cannot always supply a stimulus to present political action. The argument that reduction of taxation is necessary is not logically answered by an appeal to history on another question and a fiery denunciation of the curse of slavery as it was. And when an attempt was recently made to convict Mr. Stevenson of entertaining heterodox opinions in war time the matter was inconspicuously dismissed with a smile of contempt even by those it was designed to benefit.

The negro, by the consent of all parties, is consigned to the tutelage of the new South. The war is over. Peace is with us. Our country is verifying the golden words of Burke, "A prosperous nation should have a short political memory." All other issues now are of slight moment compared with the tariff. Therefore, as I see my duty, I shall vote for Mr. Cleveland as against Mr. Harrison.

THE LIGHTNING'S WORK.

Mr. Roe Stephens' Residence in Clifton Considerably Torn Up by the Electric Current.

Mr. Roe Stephens and family, of Clifton, had a very unpleasant experience late last evening, and a very narrow escape from death.

During the severe storm that passed over this section just about dusk, their home was struck by lightning. The bolt splintered some of the weatherboarding of the house, and then passing into one of the rooms badly wrecked it, tearing up a bed, bedding, carpet and other articles of furniture.

Luckily the family were all in adjoining rooms, and this fact probably saved them from death. They were rendered unconscious by the shock, but soon recovered.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephens were preparing to retire, and a few minutes later would have been occupying the bed that was torn up by the electric current.

DEATH-PROOF MAN.

Indiana Has a Man Who Can't Be Killed.

RICHMOND, Ind., July 30.—John N. Hutchinson seems to be death-proof. From his strange experience he was not born to be killed, for he met with no less than twenty-five accidents in the last ten years. At the Sullivan gaspits in 1874, there were thirteen men killed, while he escaped. He fell from the roof of the St. Mary's school house while it was being erected, dropping a distance of seventy-five feet, and was badly injured.

He was also hurt in a fruit-house accident, and fell from a church in Covington. While walking on a railroad track with two other men a train overtook and killed his companions; while stealing a ride with two tramps the train was derailed and they were killed. He was hurt at the Duerber works and a dozen other places. Both of his arms have been broken, several ribs fractured, his head crushed, his leg broken, and yet he is in fair physical condition.

UNDER THE STARRY FLAG

The French Canucks Would Like to Live and Breathe.

OTTAWA, July 30.—Le Canada, of this city, publishes a remarkable editorial, in which it says that an effort is being made to denationalize the French-Canadians and make them "hewers of wood and drawers of water." It adds: "After a century of struggles, of sacrifices and of progress under the English flag, are we going to allow ourselves to disappear slowly but surely in order to give way to English colonists? Will we submit to that humiliation? No; surely not. Before allowing ourselves to be engulfed on the soil of our ancestors by a foreign antagonistic element we will place ourselves under the American flag and work for the glory and grandeur of that grand country."

Warning from White Caps.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., July 30.—Ever since John Dodd, of Potato creek, had such a narrow escape from lynching because it was thought he had killed his adopted son, his enemies in the neighborhood have sought to annoy him in every way. Although he was proven innocent even of any attempt to harm the boy, those ill-natured neighbors still hold their grudge against him. A few days ago he discovered a White Cap notice posted on his gate post. It consisted of a rude drawing of a tree and a rope, and the threat that if he did not leave the country inside of six days his body would dangle at the end of a rope. Mr. Dodd is not alarmed, however, and says he will be prepared for his White Cap visitors at any time.

He Shot at a Squirrel.

LAPEL, Ind., July 30.—Zach Huffman, who is about seventy years of age, and living near here, was the victim of a peculiar accident. A ground squirrel had been committing depredations about Uncle Zach's residence, and for the purpose of exterminating the rodent he got down his old shotgun that had been laid away with a load in for some time, and, catching sight of the varmint, he held the gun in front of his shoulder about three inches and fired. The concussion rendered his arm useless, but he thought no more of the matter than that his shoulder had been bruised. Coming to town he was advised to see Dr. Jones. On examination it was found that his collarbone was broken squarely in two.

An Old Man Killed.

NEW RICHMOND, O., July 30.—Henry Smith, aged about seventy, on his way to visit friends in Covington, Ky., was put off train No. 18, on the Chesapeake and Ohio, yesterday afternoon at Fort Thomas, because he would not pay his fare. He started to walk home, and while on a bridge at Ten Mile, train No. 4 ran him down, killing him instantly. His left leg was cut off, and his foot can not be found. The train was stopped and brought the body here. He had $110 on his person. Smith was a widower, and has one son here, a cripple. He owned considerable property in Cincinnati.

Attempts Suicide and Murder.

IRONTON, O., July 30.—Martin DeFoe, laborer, whose home is near Hecla Furnace, shot himself with suicidal intent yesterday. Jealousy was the cause. After a quarrel with his wife over other men, he put a revolver to his mouth and fired, the bullet lodging in the roof of his mouth. DeFoe then tried to shoot his wife, but she grappled with him and prevented his shooting her. He may recover.

Peculiar Petition.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 30.—The Kahn Tailoring company yesterday filed an unusual petition in the criminal court. The firm asks for $1,241 for expenses in bringing William Kittell to justice when he had robbed them of their goods. # Her One Wish.

Most people who go to Europe have their minds set upon at least one place or thing which they are particularly anxious to see. This was the case with a philanthropic spinster who had lived in Boston for nearly sixty years. She was to make her first trip abroad with her brother's family.

Her sister-in-law and her nieces were mapping out the route for the six months' travel and presently one of them said to her:

"Now you must tell where you want to go, Aunt Martha; we're all choosing our favorite place, you see."

"I've heard you all agree on Italy," replied Aunt Martha, "and that's the only country I have any special desire to visit."

"Why, how nice!" said the niece, in a tone of pleased surprise. "We were talking it over the other day, and mamma said she was afraid you wouldn't care to go to Italy. You're so fastidious; and though Italy is lovely of course there are drawbacks, you know."

"I presume there are drawbacks," said Miss Martha, shivering a little. "I've heard of them. But you mustn't think I want to be sitting about on cathedral steps or damp walls, my dear. All I wish is to see some organ grinders in their native land. That has been my desire for a good many years. The men we see here look so poor and ill fed!"

"I thought perhaps," added Miss Martha, "if I could learn enough Italian to make myself understood by those men it would be a good thing for me to advise them not to come to America."

"I think it would!" said her listeners in chorus, but Miss Martha never understood why they laughed.—Youth's Companion.

His Famous Cook.

Last week two men each looking for a cook met on Woodward avenue and had a talk on hired help. This week they met again.

"Did you find a cook?" asked the first.

"No. Did you?"

"Yes. I've got one."

"Any good?"

"Best I ever had in the house."

"No! Where did you find her?"

"Down in Ohio."

"Have to go after her yourself?"

"Yes."

"How did you happen to hear of her?"

"A friend of mine told me about her first, and I wrote to her on a venture."

"How did you ever persuade her to come so far from home?"

"Blessed if I know, but she seems perfectly well satisfied now."

"Do you think I could get a mate to her at the same place?"

"Well, no, I think not."

"Why?"

"There isn't another like her, I should say."

"Who is she?"

"My wife."

"Oh," said the other man, and when he came home he went right out into his kitchen and kissed the cook four times, and his wife really seemed to think he was doing the proper thing.—Detroit Free Press.

Theories and Children.

The very children of today are afflicted with theories. "Hurry, mamma," said a seven-year-old youngster passing an alley whence issued a bad smell, "we'll get a disease." If the little folks have taken to a knowledge of and dread of microbes and bacteria life must be a burden to them. It takes all the adult philosophy one has to bear up against the horrors which, according to this and that authority, are ever lying in wait for us. It is a pity that the children should walk under the same shadow.—Her Point of View in New York Times.

Violent Mt. Etna.

CATANIA, July 30.—The eruption of Mt. Etna is again very violent. Immense amounts of rocks are projected out of the volcano to a great height, and dense clouds overhang the summit of the mountain. The subterranean rumblings are severe enough to cause windows to rattle in the neighboring villages. The lava streams are again advancing.
